UPAC Co-Chair Candidate
2016

My name is Roxette Vasquez, and I am an Advisor in the Colleges of Letters, Arts, and Science. I am originally from California and have experience working with California State University, Fullerton and National University as an advisor. I have always felt a connection with the University of Arizona, thus chose to continue my career journey at this amazing institution!

I have been working for the university for nearly one and a half years. Through this time frame I have shown to be a very innovative and driven member of my team. When someone wants a program done or a new task to be implemented, I go out of my way to see that it is completed. I believe that new and innovative ideas are what keep the excitement going in groups.

As a Co-Chair for UPAC, I will be prepared to bring this innovation to our group. I want to make UPAC an exciting council to be a part of, as well as continue to grow its value campus wide. Advisors are a key asset to our student's growth on and off campus. Although the advising community has made great strides to be more visible and known on campus, we still have a ways to go.

My goals as a UPAC Co-Chair:

- Serve as an advocate for our advisors campus wide, through UPAC representation in committees (Example. Recruitment/Retention Committees)
- Search for quality presenters for UPAC meetings
- Host events for our advisors to come together and learn about our departments and share high impact practices.
- Create events to show campus who advisors really are at the University of Arizona! (Examples of past events: Advising on the Mall, Meet your Advisor Mixer, etc.)

Thank you for reading my statement, and I look forward to having your support, Bear Down!
