

THE UNIVERSITY OF ARIZONA
COLLEGE OF HUMANITIES

Religious Studies
& Classics

RELI/ANTH/HUMS
428A / 528A

Globalization, the Environment, and Indigenous Religions

This course discusses the impact globalization has had on the world environment over the last twenty years.

Focusing on climate change, ecocide, and their consequences for Indigenous peoples, we will come to understand the expansive scope of globalization through a multitude of perspectives, including those of women and the incarcerated.

We will also explore more sustainable and holistic ways of living in the 21st century.

SPRING
2018

Mon/Wed 2:00-3:15 pm
East Asian Studies Conference Rm 107
Learning Services Building

PROFESSOR Julian Kunnie
jkunnie@email.arizona.edu

▶▶▶ Register Now!