

4-H Internship/Volunteer Opportunity

Announcement: Santa Cruz Ranchers 4-H is seeking several UA students to fill internship roles as 4-H project leaders or assistants in a new club located in an underserved urban setting. In August, 2021 this club will head into its second full year with established leadership and membership in place. You will join a team composed of neighborhood leaders and will be mentored by a long time 4-H community club leader who is assisting with the new club's establishment and growth.

Prerequisites: Must be age 21 by August 1, 2021 and willing and able to obtain a 4-H volunteer certification which includes online training, letters of reference, a fingerprint card and background check. Must have an interest in positive youth development, community development and informal nontraditional hands on education as dictated by the 4-H "Learn by Doing" model.

Commitment: A one semester commitment (Aug 1, 2021 to Dec 15, 2021) is required at a minimum and two semesters preferred (Aug 1 to May 1, 2022) for either a formal internship for credit or noncredit volunteer project leader position. Assistant positions will also be available. The club is structured with two meetings per month on Wednesday afternoons plus occasional weekend events. As a project leader, you will select and deliver the project curriculum and mentor your 4-H project members age 8 to 18 through out the year culminating with their participation at the Pima County Fair in April 2022. As part of the leadership team you will assist with club meetings, delivery of curriculum and creating opportunities for members to develop mastery and leadership as they progress in their projects. An assistant position will work alongside a project leader to facilitate and run the project.

4-H Projects: Santa Cruz Ranchers currently offers the Poultry, Horse and Pygmy Goat projects and has an interest in adding additional projects such as sewing, nutrition and cooking, photography, and rocketry among others. Initially, the greatest need is for project leaders to run the Poultry project and support the Horse project.

Volunteer Opportunity: This is a unique opportunity to volunteer in an underserved area of Tucson where the infrastructure and support are in place providing a strong foundation for positive outcomes. These efforts will be supplemented by a recently awarded 4-H National Mentoring Program Grant (<https://utah4h.org/projects/other/yfp/>) which will provide additional volunteer youth mentoring opportunities in the areas of improving academic performance, enhancing social competencies and strengthening family bonds. Santa Cruz Ranchers 4-H was one of three Tucson sites to receive this national grant which will begin June 2021.

4-H: 4-H is a youth development organization that is over 100 years old with clubs around the world with the goal of developing citizenship, leadership, responsibility and life skills in youth through experiential learning programs and a positive youth development approach. Although its roots are agriculture based and animal projects are still popular, 4-H today has added projects in citizenship, healthy living, science, engineering, and technology. 4-H benefits from the partnership between the Cooperative Extension at land grant universities, Pima County and the U.S. Department of Agriculture. There are over 6 million 4-H members in the US with over 1000 in Pima County.
