FAO Legal Diagnostic Tools

Capitalizing on the Lessons Learned and the Good Practices for the Pastoralism Sector

Thursday, 14 November 2024

On Thursday, 14 November 2024, the Development Law Service of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), in collaboration with the Animal Production and Health and the Rural Transformation and Gender Equality divisions, invites experts and stakeholders to a virtual exchange on FAO-developed legal diagnostic tools.

These interactive webinars will showcase various FAO legal diagnostic tools, followed by discussions on experiences and lessons learned from their development and application.

The insights gathered will inform the creation of a new diagnostic tool focused on supporting pastoralist communities by addressing legal gaps in pastoralism-specific policy frameworks. This tool is being developed under the "Water and Food Security Initiative for Africa 2" (IESA 2) project to strengthen resource access and sustainable livelihoods for pastoralists in the Sahel region, with a broader application in view for the International Year of Rangelands and Pastoralists (2026).
