We are pleased to announce Solar Benefits Tucson, a new employee solar discount program offered by ICLEI – Local Governments for Sustainability USA. The City of Tucson, Pima County and other large employers including The University of Arizona and University Medical Center are participating in this innovative program to help our employees' pool their buying power to secure significant discounts and a range of financing options that make going solar at home more affordable than ever. It simplifies the process of researching and choosing the right solar provider, making it easy for you to save money and produce clean renewable energy.

How does it work?

- Solar Benefits Tucson will launch in February 2012. The program will send out a Request for Proposals on behalf of participating employer organizations to reliable solar providers.
- An evaluation committee will review and score the proposals, vetting providers on experience, resources, technologies, pricing, lease options, warranties and customer service. This selection process will occur the first week of March.
- Once the committee has selected one or more providers, you will be able to sign up for a free home solar site evaluation and receive a quote for solar electricity, solar hot water or both. There is no obligation. Both purchase and leasing options will be available.
- The Solar Benefits Tucson program will provide a technical advisor that will stick with group participants to answer any questions you have throughout the process should you choose to install a solar energy system.

Now, helping employees cut back on utility bills while reducing their carbon footprint in Pima County can be as simple as flipping a switch!

If you'd like to sign up for the group (no obligation) and receive a free site evaluation and quote from the selected solar providers, please visit the program website:
