

Career Forward Workshops

Leveraging Advanced Degrees and Experience to Pursue Careers in Industry and Non-profits

Two Individual Workshops

September 4 and 6, 1 PM to 4:30 PM

ENR 2 Bldg., Room S215

1064 E Lowell Street

Free to Attend

Space is limited. Registration Required.

Register at

<http://bit.ly/levyourexperience-sept2018>

Workshop Overview

Graduate Students and Postdoctoral Scholars have a range of skills and experience needed in a variety of career settings. Being able to highlight both is critical to your success in landing a position with a company or non-profit. This workshop will prepare you to apply to positions in the business and non-profit sectors. Attendees will benefit from the 30+ years of experience in business and entrepreneurship of James Jindrick, Director of Corporate Engagement for the UA's Office of Research, Discovery and Innovation.

Hosted by

The UA Graduate Center, UA Postdoctoral Affairs, and UA Research, Discovery and Innovation

Ideal for graduate students in STEM or non-STEM fields, postdoctoral scholars, and faculty and staff who work with or mentor them.

Attendees will gain

- Knowledge of the business and non-profit worlds and their objectives
- Tools for creating effective résumés
- A draft 1-2 page résumé by the end of the workshop
- Strategies to leverage informational interviewing to learn about and identify positions