

AED 697C: Workshop on Teaching at the College Level

- Apply theories of teaching and learning to college instruction
- Design syllabi, curriculum, and assessments for college audiences
- Organize and deliver content to meet learning objectives
- Incorporate a variety of teaching methodologies and instructional aids into curriculum
- Discuss current issues in college education

Fall 2019

When: Tuesdays 3:30pm – 6:30pm

Where: Saguaro Hall, Room 104

Instructor: Dr. Amber Rice

Course Description:

This workshop is designed to assist graduate students in developing an understanding of the role of instruction at the college level. This course is ideal for current graduate teaching assistants and students with aspirations of teaching at the college level.

AED 697C is as an approved elective for the Certificate in College Teaching Program offered through the Office of Instruction and Assessment (OIA).

<http://cct.oia.arizona.edu/>

For more information, please contact Dr. Amber Rice.

Office Phone: 520-621-1523

Email: amrice@email.arizona.edu