

IMPACT LEADER FELLOWS PROGRAM

Nominations due November 10, 2023. Please apply here.

Bayer has partnered with the University of Arizona's College of Agriculture, Life, & Environmental Sciences (CALES), The CALES Career Center, and Porterbay Insight to develop the Impact Leader Fellows Program. This professional development program represent students across the diverse disciplines of the College and supports up to 24 students annually.

As a cohort, Fellows work together for an entire semester to gain knowledge in:

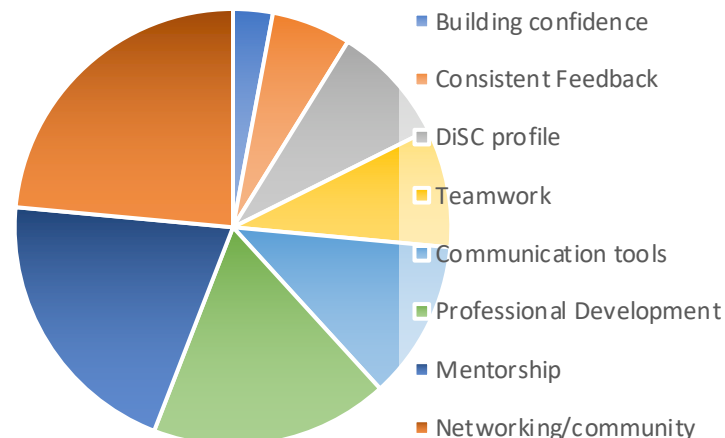

- developing effective teams
- communicating with diverse individuals
- navigating their careers

Fellows are also matched with industry coaches who can give them industry perspectives, help to build a professional network, and highlight the skillsets required to be successful.

By the Numbers 2020-2023 (4 cohorts)

- 85 students: 28male, 57 female
- 27 Masters/58 PhDs
- 17 From under-represented groups
- 30 International students

What was the most impactful aspect of the Impact Leaders Fellowship Program?

At the end of the program, students will have been provided the following tools:

1. Professional headshot
2. Resume/CV reviewed by a professional
3. Elevator speech
4. Experience with mock interviews and media queries
5. Interaction with an industry mentor