

Invites applications for

Assistant Professor, Forestry & Natural Resources / Geomatics

Location Eureka Campus

Closing Date August 22, 2025

Annual Salary Range $69,660 - $99,693

Summary

This position is for a full-time, 50% grant-funded, tenure track Assistant Professor in Forestry and Natural Resources based at the Eureka campus. The Forestry and Natural Resources / Geomatics Assistant Professor will develop and implement a Geomatics Certificate and teach a wide variety of Forestry and Natural Resource courses that may include, but are not limited to: Introduction to Surveying, Geospatial Concepts, Introduction to Remote Sensing, Introduction to GIS.

Additional responsibilities will include aiding in all necessary steps to maintain Society of American Foresters (SAF) accreditation, curriculum development, assessment, establishing relationships with industry partners, and hosting community advisory meetings. Teaching assignment may include night and weekend work, teaching via on-campus, online, and hybrid, and in synchronous and asynchronous course-delivery modalities. Anticipated start date for this position is Fall 2026.

Preferred Qualifications

- Master's degree in Forestry or Natural Resources with at least one degree from an SAF-accredited institution.
- Bachelor's degree in Forestry, Geomatics, or related disciplines.
- Experience working in a hand-on, collaborative education environment.
- Knowledge of GIS and Spatial Analysis software as well as other discipline specific technology.
- Interest and expertise in applying remote sensing, geographic information systems, data collection, analysis and modeling to natural resources management questions.
- Interest and ability in obtaining the Registered Professional Forester license in California.

Education and Experience

Minimum Requirement: Any bachelor's degree and two years of professional experience, or any associate's degree and six years of professional experience.

Commitment to teaching diverse student populations, including first-generation college students, low-socioeconomic students, and racially minoritized students.

College of the Redwoods values all members of our community and strives to create a diverse, nurturing, honest, and open environment.

CR is committed to equal employment opportunity in its employment and encourages applications from underrepresented group members.

Application Process

Apply online at: <https://employment.redwoods.edu/>

You will need the information listed below to complete the online process. The following file formats will be accepted for attachments - .docx or pdf.

1. Letter of introduction expressing interest in the position and describing the candidate's qualifications for the position.
2. Professional résumé or curriculum vitae.
3. Transcripts of all college degrees and courses (unofficial is sufficient for application, official copies will be required of the successful candidate.)
4. A statement of Teaching Philosophy.

Incomplete application packets will not be forwarded for consideration by the Selection Committee.

Selection Process

All applications will be reviewed by a representative screening committee. Selected candidates will be invited to appear for a personal interview at College of the Redwoods. Some financial assistance will be available to assist finalists with travel expenses related to interviewing.

Application Procedures

All documents included in your application file become the property of the College and will not be returned. Your file for this opening will not be considered for future openings. New documents must be submitted for each opening.

To be included in the first review, the applicant must complete the application process on-line by 5:00 p.m. PST on the closing or first review date. The district reserves the right to keep this position open until filled.

If, because of a disability, you need special services or facilities in order to apply or interview for this opening, please call Human Resources.

Benefits

Medical, dental and vision insurance is provided by the District for all full-time employees and their dependents. Faculty also receive sick leave and personal holidays. Retirement benefits are administered through CalSTRS.

Application and more information is available online at www.redwoods.edu/hr or contact:

Office of Human Resources phone 707.476.4140
 7351 Tompkins Hill Road fax 707.476.4421
 Eureka, CA 95501-9300 job line 707.476.4598

email hr@redwoods.edu

CR COLLEGE OF THE REDWOODS

College of the Redwoods has a proud history of high-quality education dedicated to student success. As one of 116 public community colleges in the state of California, College of the Redwoods offers wide variety of accessible learning opportunities, including online classes and other distance education options. The college awards Associate of Arts and Associate of Science Degrees as well as Associate in Arts for Transfer and Associate in Sciences for Transfer and a wide variety of career technical certificates for vocational and professional development. It is an accredited, two-year institution that has articulation agreements with major four-year universities.

Locations

College of the Redwoods is located in Northern California. Our campuses are set in a picturesque environment between giant redwood groves and the Pacific Ocean.

The Eureka Campus is located at the southern outskirts of the city of Eureka, 270 miles north of San Francisco; the Del Norte Education Center is in Crescent City, 30 miles south of the Oregon border, near Point St. George. Instructional sites are in Hoopa and Downtown Eureka.

Mission STATEMENT

College of the Redwoods puts the success of each student at the forefront of every strategic effort. The college provides relevant educational programs that promote student academic achievement, career readiness, and lifelong learning so that our students may thrive in a rapidly changing world. We endeavor to meet the needs of the various communities we serve and to be a nimble and pioneering partner in the educational, civic, cultural, and economic development of the region. We recognize the future of learning will require flexibility and resiliency and we are committed to developing and expanding innovative in-person and online programs and responsive student services. Through assessment and evidence-based research, we continuously improve programs to ensure that students have the opportunity and support to succeed. We are dedicated to contributing to a sustainable environment; providing reasonable access to all curricula, programs and services; promoting a culture that is unbiased; and fostering an environment of belonging that respects the dignity of all people.

College of the Redwoods values all members of our community and strives to create a diverse, nurturing, honest, and open environment. CR is committed to equal employment opportunity in its employment and encourages applications from underrepresented group members. We will continuously seek and support a dedicated, highly-qualified staff that is diverse in terms of cultural background, ethnicity, and intellectual perspective and that is committed to fostering a climate of academic freedom and collegiality. We will encourage and reward professional development for all staff and will all share in the responsibility for student outcomes.

College of the Redwoods affirms its responsibility to address the diverse civic needs of the many communities we serve and to provide leadership in the civic, cultural, and economic development of the North Coast region.

➤ For more information or application materials, contact us at:

College of the Redwoods	phone	707.476.4140
Office of Human Resources	tty	707.476.4443
7351 Tompkins Hill Road	fax	707.476.4421
Eureka, CA 95501-9300	email	hr@redwoods.edu